Linguistic Summary of All Heads of Household Enumerated

This summary is based on the birthplace and closest relations of the head of each household. French and Kouri-Vini are both wide-spread languages on the Acadian Coast, especially in St. James Parish, by "white" and "nonwhite" persons. It is difficult to ascertain who speaks which in the records, so I have arranged them in one group. Francophone is denoted for persons born in Francophone Europe and Canada.

A few Hispanophones born in Spain and Cuba, as well as the Canary Islands, were still alive in this census. Records suggest that many continued to speak Spanish. Their children and grandchildren, already spoke French and/or Kouri-Vini, as reflected in naming patterns among them (both forenames and surnames).

Anglophones in this census overwhelmingly came from Anglophone U.S. states. A few were born in the British Isles.
